An adjourned meeting of the Committee on Grounds and Buildings was held in room No. 5 of the Cly Hall last evening at 6 o'clock. The following members were present: Meastr. Epps (chairman). Briegs, Gunst, Mountcastle, King, and pay-roll of the department for the The pay-roll of the department for the past two weeks was approved and a number of bills were ordered to be paid. The City Ergineer was instructed on motion of Mr. Gunst to have the necestary steps taken to comply with the ordinance passed recently by the City Council, which provides that the building be sold af public auction to be form down, which is now sampling on the site purchased by the city at the intersection of Broad and Adams streets and Brooke avenue.

The City Engineer was instructed to secure bids for repairs necessary to the belcony of the Regimental Armory on Seventh and Marshall streets, and to sward the contract to the lowest bidder.

A communication was received from Messrs. Pollard & Bagby, who offer as a site for a new jail a lot of 284 feet frontage on the north side of M street, with a depth of 189 feet on the east side of Twelfth street, and of 189 feet on the uest side of Thirteenth stret. The price asked for the site is $5,390.

The matter was referred to the special joint committee of the two branches of the City Council appointed to consider the question of constructing a new jail.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed from this committee to be known as the purchasing committee, whose duty it shall be to buy all necessary supplies for all grounds and buildings (exclusive of items which are supplied now under contract), under the control of this committee—the amount for the City Hail not to exceed $500, and for parks and grounds not to exceed $500.

The resolution was adopted on motion of Mr. Briggs, and the Chair appointed Messrs. King, Gonst, and Snead members of that committee.

On motion of Mr. Briggs the chairman was requested to appoint some day when the new Cavalry armory, on north Sevuerith street, which is now completed, be turned over to the proper authorities.

A number of improvements suggested for various rooms in the new City Hail to the way of the result-committee were considered.

HE WINS ANOTHER GAME FOR THE FRISKY HUSTLERS.

Hallman Was Hit Hard in the Seventh Inning -The Score of 9 to 8 for the Hustlers.

A long, tedious, dull game, full of puerile wrangling and disagreeable kicking on the part of the visitors, was what the i.800 spectators saw at West-End Park yesterday afternoon. At one time there was a strong contest for the victory and excitement ran high. The Hustlers then got on to Haliman and batted out six runs. Then everything settled down to a monotonous drag. Only seven innings were played, though Jake Wells tapped the gong four times at i.30 o'clock.

to a monotonous drag. Only seven innings were played, though Jake Wells tapled the gong four times at 1.30 o'clock.
At 6.45 o'clock, Umpire Phillips called the game on account of darkness. The son had set quite a while before that.
Everybody was thred of seeing Childs, Caville, and the rest of them klek, and nebody regretised that the other two innings would not be played out.
The itustlers scored in the first inning.
Smith rapped the ball to left field for a pretty little single, stole second, went to third when Therston fumbled Houseman's grounder, and cryssed the plate on Wells' sharp grounder to right field.
Then the visitore sent two men over the righter. Caville, Childs, and Reel each found Knorr for a lucky single.
Smith's error and Childs' scolen base
did the rest.

YESTEL'S GREAT REFORT.

Then it was that Foster made the effort of his life. He was the first man up in the second. Hallman twirled the leather over the plate. It was the first ball pitched to the Duke of Fulton. He "pasted" it, to use a little rooter vernacular, it was a solid crack that sourced aloft, between the left-field and centre-field fence. Nobody thought it would go over. Every man, woman, and child in the ball park held their breath. Higher and farther the ball went, until third, and scored on an ugly error by Houseman, who muffed a pop-up fly from Hallman's bat.

It was the seventh inning that made Hallman sick. Then it was that the Hustlers made a bass-drum of his de-

MRF. E. A. GOODWIN.

In Memoriam.

MR. B. A. GOODWIN,

At a meeting of the members of St. John's church, held August 20th, the following preamble and resolutions were unamimously adopted. We have het this evening to render a tribute of loving sympathy to our beloved pastor, occasioned by the death of his cherished wife, who passed away from our midst on Sunday list, to where beyond these voices there is perfect peace. The following is a just tribute to the memory of one whose demise has filled so many hearts with sorrow:

The beauty, and purity, and eternity of the virtues which ever animated the bosom of the now enfonded one it is a melancholy to record, which brings with it no sting, for Death is Bwailowed up in Victory. Kind, gentle, and affable, none could approach our believed pister without being impressed by the amiability and infliness of heart that excessive modesty could not conceal.

In the domestic circle her virtues shone with a most cheerful radiance, and that circle, alas, suffers the darkest collage from death. Now the altar around which clustered the sympathies and hopes, and loves, of a family which were wont to commune is draped in cypress, but at the toot of that altar, and by the said of that cypress, is "nether end of a how," stretching far heavenward and spanning the mountful seen with the gittering promise of happy reunion above. May that promise be fulfilled, and may the loved ones below regard the oeloved departed as "not dead, but gone betore."

We cannot measure our loving sympathy in words, but we can try to imiand may the lovest ones below regard the beloved departed as "not dead, but fone beloge."

We cannot measure our loving sympathy in words, but we can try to imitate her beautiful Christian ideal—love and charity to all. It was what our sainted sister practiced in her daily life. Resolved, That we assure the bereaved family of our tender sympathy and Christian love in this time of deep distress. Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings be conveyed to the family, and also a copy be published in the daily papers.

should be adopted. When the matter was broached in the committee some little opvote was taken there was only one dissenting voice. Since that time, it is said senting voice. Since that time, it is said that opinions unfavorable to this plan have been expressed by members who were not present at the meeting, and the probabilities seem to be that an effort will be made to have the matter reconsidered.

One of the members of the committee said yesterday that he thought there was a serong probability of the vote being reconsidered, and the decision of the committee at dis last meeting reversed. He said he thought the Walton system of voting would be much more satisfactory to the people at large; that they understood it thoroughly, and he had no doubt that a big outery would be the realt if the committee should adhere to the viva voce plan.

LIVELY SESSION EXPECTED.

This question, the Epps resolution, and the consideration of whether such a date shall be set as to make the primary a legal one, will furnish food for considerable obscussion to-right, and a lively session is expected.

The set timent among a large propartion of the citizens of Richmond favors a legal zed primary, for they recognize the fact that the opportunities for fraud are thereby practically rendered void, and very little time will be lost by waiting unfil such date as will render the primary legal. September 2th seems to be the most favored date, and only twelve days intervene between this and October 5th—the earliest date upon which, under the law, a legalized primary can be held. In getting at the sentivents of the citizens at large, only very few seemed to symmathize with the candidates, all of their feelings being with the people. Many expressed the opinion that if the candidates had not the manhood to refuse to pay the deal-beats they deserved to be bied.

Many or Moss.

MANY OFFICENS,

cil, and also all other city officials who require a certain degree of vicentific knowledge to make them eligible for their positions. Should the people, he said, be allowed to elect the City Engineer, his fitness for office would be the last thing they would consider, and they would be as apt as not to elect a man to the position who could not correctly work a sum in long division. It was proper, he said, that the City Commei should consider calmly and discussionately the acquirements of each candidate, and select the one best equipped for the position. for the position.

The decision of the committee to-night on this and the other important questions is awaited with much interest.
